Caution: Double cylinder locks on doors that are used for exits are a safety hazard in times of emergency. We do not recommend double cylinder locks in these situations. Installation should follow existing codes.

An entrance deadbolt lock with a 1" throw retractable by thumbturn from inside is required by code in many American locations. To comply with this regulation, and at the same time preserve the antique uniformity of hardware, we offer cylinder deadbolt locks and recommend our cylinder lock covers for the outside cylinder.

See section "Cylinder Lock Covers" on page 21 of this catalogue.

We supply premium-quality deadbolt locks with solid brass cylinders that fit our full range of cylinder lock covers. For single-cylinder locks we supply thumbturns M202, M203, and M204, all antique-textured by hand and finished in either Dull Black (DB), Armor Bright (AB), Brass (BRS), or Bronze (BNZ).

Please specify keyed-different (KD) or keyed alike (KA), and provide door thickness when ordering. If door is thicker than 1-3/4", lock may require longer screws (M822 and M823) and customized longer driver bar.

M450 shown in Brass finish. Deadbolt thrown or retracted only by thumbturn inside. No outside trim, no emergency access.

M460 shown in Brass finish with M202 thumbturn. Deadbolt thrown or retracted by key from outside or by thumbturn inside.

M470 not pictured. Deadbolt thrown or retracted by key from either side.
